

YOUR RENDER BLUEPRINT

To create an accurate rendering of your design, here's what I'll need to get started. Don't worry if everything isn't perfectly organized—I'll let you know if anything is missing.

ROOM INFORMATION

- Measured or to-scale floor plan
- Ceiling height
- Door heights
- Window dimensions and height from the floor
- Lighting locations

EXISTING SPACE

- Clear photos of the room, preferably one from each corner
- Photos and dimensions of any existing furniture, lighting, artwork, or decor that will remain

DESIGN SELECTIONS

- Mood boards, elevations, and design notes
- Links or clear images for paint, flooring, tile, wallcoverings, wood, upholstery, metal and other finishes
- For paint: manufacturer, color name, and product number or ID

FURNISHINGS + DECOR

- Links to all new furniture, lighting, artwork, and accessories
- Dimensions for any items without a product link

Every project is a little different, so I may reach out for a few additional details as the rendering comes together.
